Cummins resigns

Larry Cummins has resigned from the Anson, Hindon and Minden township council. His letter of resignation was read at the April 28 meeting of the council and accepted by his fellow councillors with regret.

resigned. Elliott, who also serves as justice of the peace in Minden, cited the potential conflict between his appointed and elected positions as the reason for resigning. With Elliott's resignation, both Pergolas and Cummins were seated at

Council appoints Dave Stevens to fill vacancy ... see story below

The question of Cummins continuing on the council has been looming in the background ever since the councillor suffered a heart attack in early March shortly before leaving Mexico where he had been on vacation.

The letter from the councillor explained that his doctor had recommended that he step down from his council seat to help reduce the strain of his work load. He said his heart condition was probably a result of his smoking and the stress resulting from his council responsibilities and the operation of his own business.

Cummins informed the council that he enjoyed his term with the municipal body. However, pointed out, "...there are just too many programs underway for me to continue." Cummins did offer his services to the council as a committee member or in an advisory capacity.

Cummins was first elected to Anson, Hindon and Minden council in 1980. In that race, he and Ed Pergolas had tied the vote count for the last position on the council. A recount was held, but the need for it was soon erased as successful candidate Dean Elliott the council table.

In the 1982 election, Cummins placed third among eight candidates and was returned to the council.

The meeting was told Thursday that the council had two choices in filling the vacancy created by Cummins' resignation. According to the clerk-treasurer, Elinor Burke, the council could call an election to fill the vacancy or the council could appoint someone to the post for the remainder of the three year term. The appointment could be of anyone within the municipality who would qualify for the position under the criteria set out for election candidates.

Burke estimated that an election would cost about $6000. She said she wasn't aware of any subsidies which might be available from the provincial government to help cover the cost of holding another vote. Councillor Gary Kenney said he had been discussing the matter with various officials and felt, "there might be sympathetic ears at the Ministry of Housing and Municipal Affairs in these cases."

The council was asked to consider the options and be prepared to discuss them at the next meeting of council.

Legion Branch 129 celebrated another evening in their proud history by burning the mortgage the branch has paid off in just four years. Branch 129 marked the occasion with a dinner and dance. Following a speech by Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey and offers of congratulations, the mortgage was torched as the highlight of the evening. Legion president Sylvia Sisson, Cliff Dawson, Wes Baker, Don Johnston and Jane Johnston did the honours.

Legion retires mortgage

It was a red letter day at Legion Branch 129 in Haliburton last Saturday April 30 as the Legion celebrated paying and burning its mortgage. A large crowd enjoyed dinner and a dance.

Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey was guest speaker on the auspicious occasion and recounted the history of the branch.

The branch received its charter on August 21 1927 and was "destined to succeed," said Fearrey. A short time later, the branch authorised the payment to a Mr. Little of $1 for rental of the meeting room "until finances improves." Another tongue in cheek example demonstrating the branch's thrift was the order made to furnish the new legion quarters. The man in charge of finances was directed to buy a stove, stovepipe, light bulbs, a table and chairs and a broom.

Later, during the Depression, the Haliburton

Legion fell on hard times. The charter granted the organization was demanded returned, but Dr. A.G. Scofield hid it and returned it later.

The ladies auxiliary was formed in 1945 and the legion added another fine group of citizens to its ranks.

The legion suffered through fires after surviving the war but just as determinedly rebuilt. Finally, after "jumping on the Wintario bandwagon" the present building was constructed. Fearrey said he had the privilege to serve on that committee and jokingly pointed out that the insurance agent Cliff Dawson had been on all three building committees.

Fearrey called it "quite a success story," a statement hard to deny.

Following further speeches and congratulations from District Commander Paul Hycha, Deputy District commander Doug Worrall and the two local F4 zone commanders Mel Robertson and Gwen Cox for the Ladies Auxiliary, president Sylvia Sisson, Cliff Dawson, Wes Baker, Don Johnston and Jane Johnston assembled on the stage and with Baker holding the mortgage, the piece of paper was set on fire and as the flames slowly consumed the mortgage, the audience rose to its feet giving a rousing ovation.

Dave Stevens appointed to council

At a special meeting held Tuesday, Anson, Hindon and Minden council appointed Minden businessman Dave Stevens as successor to former councillor Larry Cummins.

Council first declared the seat vacant and Reeve Lyle McKnight prefaced the resolution declaring Stevens as the new council member saying he had a discussion with him and Stevens, after satisfying himself he could handle council duties, phoned to accept the position.

Stevens, contacted Tuesday evening, reiterated the goals he stated when running for council in the November election. He was first runner-up, finishing behind Cummins who captured the last seat.

"I'm for getting more business in town," said the Beaverbrook Golf Course owner. "Council should be an open forum. I feel we should be more progressive" he continued.

Stevens said the tourism industry should be encouraged to expand and strengthen, "because its the only industry we have," he explained.

The businessman said he liked councillor Gary Kenney's ideas for the mini-fairs to be held this summer by the municipal buildings and on special occasions, on the main street.

Cummins handed in his resignation accepting his doctor's advice after a recent heart attack. The attack was due to smoking and stress both in his own business and in municipal politics. He offered his services in an advisory capacity or as a member of one of the municipality's committees.

Storm flattens Hydro lines

A freak storm which swept across Ontario Monday left a trail of destruction through parts of Haliburton County.

Ontario Hydro official report that power lines were down in a number of locations throughout the area. The biggest power outage occurred in the Kinmount area where a sub-transmission line was knocked out by the combination of wind, lightning and rain. According to Hydro spokesman Cal Wilson, much of the damage to power lines resulted from falling trees and branches.

In the Kinmount area, power was interrupted from about 3:45 p.m. to around 7 p.m. Power outages of varying lengths occurred elsewhere.

Hydro crews worked throughout the night and into Tuesday to restore power to subscribers. Wilson said at the height of the storm some 7000 customers were affected by the black-out. "The crew did a bang-up job in getting the power restored," Wilson commented. "We're really pleased."

One area that sustained serious damage was near Twelve Mile Lake south of Carnarvon. As the photographs on this page show, tree branches were thrown over the power and Bell lines causing poles to snap and the lines to break. The work crews are seen cutting away at the downed timbers as the driving rain continues to lash the area.

No injuries were reported as a result of the storm.

BIA supplies fish

Minden B.I.A. has approved funding for stocking the Gull River, council liason Gary Kenney said. The fish planted will be rainbow trout. He asked council to "entertain the idea of participation."

Kenney said there may be a promotion in which a "monster" fish is released and the angler hooking it on a specific day wins various prizes.

Lyle McKnight said it was "basically financial help" the B.I.A. is asking for and Kenney agreed. The councillor said MNR liked the idea.

Kenney also said the group was thinking about installing some ducks on the river in much the same manner as Bobcaygeon has done there. He said they would be placed there "for viewing pleasure and not for shooting" and wondered about legislation which could protect the birds. He said it was hoped the ducks would stay year round.

Council agreed to match B.I.A. funding for the final planting program.

Teachers-Board agree on 5% raise

Secondary school teachers and the Haliburton County Board of Education, have reached a salary agreement for 1983-84 school year. The teachers will receive an increase of 5% across the board.

The details of the new contract were announced earlier this week in a joint press release issued by the board representative, trustee Cheryl Murdoch and teacher representative Gary Brohman.

According to the terms of the agreement, a liason committee consisting of a representative from the board, the teachers and the director of education, Douglas Hodgson, will be created; the pay schedule for the teachers will be changed from a ten months schedule to 12 months; and the 5% increase. No other change was made to the terms of the agreement covering the teachers.

"Both parties were pleased by the co-operative manner in which a settlement was reached," the press release stated.

The agreement between the elementary school teachers and the board was reached earlier this school year.

Kayaks compete this Sunday

White water enthusiasts will get their first taste of action for the year this weekend as a whitewater slalom race will be held at the Minden Wild Water Preserve. The action is slated to begin Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

This event was originally scheduled for May 15 but had to be moved back a week to accommodate the National Team trials set for British Columbia on that weekend.

The paddlers will be in the water Saturday for practice runs with the actual competition scheduled to take place Sunday.

The white water course is located on Horseshoe Lake Road one, just below the Horseshoe Lake dam. Spectators are invited to view the contest from one of the many vantage points along the course.

Two other events of significance have been scheduled for this season at the preserve. The open canoe slalom will be held September 17 and 18 while the Ontario Provincial Slalom Championships will be staged September 24 and 25.

A change at the table

It is unfortunate that Anson, Hindon and Minden council must lose one of its experienced members. The resignation of Councillor Cummins will create a void which will take some time to fill, especially considering he has two years of experience at the council table.

Councillor Cummins was certainly not the most outspoken member of council, but what he lacked in this regard, he made up in his contributions through the committee system.

Along with other members of the community, we salute the contribution he has made to this municipality. His willingness to serve spoke well of his dedication and interest. With those thoughts go wishes for a speedy recovery.

At the same time, the community welcomes Dave Stevens to the council table. During the November election campaign, Stevens presented a progressive and aggressive platform with heavy emphasis on an improved business climate for the municipality.

We wish him well in his new position as councillor.

Re- "From the Chamber"
- (April 27) Information
Centre lacks funding.

As chairman of the managing board of the Haliburton County Information and Referral Centre, I would like to clarify a few points.

1. The Information Centre's application for funding is still pending. It has not been unable to obtain funds as Mr. Stinson suggests.

2. Because of the Chamber's insistence that they were given a mandate and funds from County Council to promote the Highlands of Haliburton; and that the Information Centre was duplicating their services, our managing board agreed that weekly news releases of coming events to the media would be prepared exclusively by the Chamber, starting immediately.

3. Even though the Centre operates now with the help of trained volunteers under the direction of part-time volunteer-coordinator L. Dobzensky, it is providing a full range of services as before.

Doris McCann,
Kennis Lake

Editor:

With reference to your excellent article entitled "County hears Hydro's stand on spraying", I would like to clarify a few points if I may as the article was, perhaps, a little vague in some areas.

1. I am concerned about possible residues of T.C.D.D. the most potent form of dioxin. T.C.D.D. was a contaminant of 245T which was used by Ontario Hydro and the M.T.C. in this area prior to its suspension in Ontario in 1980. I requested an environmental impact survey so that any residues in the wildlife and water bodies, (not particularly in the soil as your article says), can be identified.

2. It is not the fact that The Pesticides Advisory Committee is monitoring another herbicide used in this area by Hydro, that is my concern. It is the fact that Hydro is using this herbicide en masse whilst the Government is, (and I quote) "Still monitoring and assessing new research on this chemical as it becomes available". reference "A Scientific Update of The Current Status of Tordon (Picloram) Herbicide," Pesticides Advisory Committee Report, May 1982. On reading through the literature I concluded that the safety of this chemical is still a matter of conflict. The safety of any chemical should be proven absolutely, leaving no shadow of a doubt, before being used en masse by Hydro or anyone else.

3. The persistence of Tordon Picloram IN THE SOIL was not the main point that I was endeavouring to make re. this chemical (persistent residues are perhaps more likely to be found in plants and wildlife rather than in soil). I quote from my notes taken with me to County Council "As Hydro uses water as the agent for Tordon Picloram, and as Tordon Picloram is soluble in water and is not readily absorbed by the colloidal matter in soil, it may be carried by surface runoff to non-target areas such as ponds, lakes and streams."

I am meeting with Ontario Hydro representatives from Toronto on May 11. I will also be making a presentation at County Council on May 18.

I would like to apologise if I confused your reporter in any way. Even our own "Times" may make a small error, once in a while. Keep up the good work. Like many other residents I thoroughly look forward to reading my local weekly newspaper.

Hospital probe continues

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

Yet one more baby's death at Sick Children's Hospital is being investigated by homicide detectives. The infant's body contained elevated levels of digoxin, and the death occurred despite a recently adopted unit-dose drug distribution system which allows only single doses of drugs such as digoxin to be administered.

The news of this infant's death became public shortly after the Attorney-General had announced a public inquiry into 28 suspicious infant deaths at the hospital. According to the Attorney-General, it is quite conceivable that a person could admit to murder during the public inquiry probe into the deaths, and never be prosecuted. People testifying before the Royal Commission will be able to sue the protection of the Canada Evidence Act. "That means any evidence they give cannot be used against them in a court of law", he said.

Police will be monitoring the inquiry and could lay charges on any new information, but he said "we have to face up to the reality that someone could admit to being the perpetrator of these crimes and we might not be able to lay charges because the only evidence is that person's own admission".

David Peterson and other Opposition members have pressed for a public inquiry into the hospital and especially into the manner in which the police had conducted their investigation. He warned that the Royal Commission "cannot be used by the government as a stalling factor or a white-wash of the issue". "The decision ... is long overdue", he said, and we hope the government's delay in initiating it will not prejudice any resulting benefit a public inquiry might bring."

A spokesman for the Hospital for Sick Children, reacting to the Attorney-General's announcement of a Royal Commission of Inquiry into the deaths in the hospital's cardiac wards between 1980 and 1981, stated that the hospital has lived with low morale for two years, has continued to provide good service, and will do the same during the public inquiry.

Ontario Hydro

The petrochemical manufacturing consortium, Petrosar Ltd., is suing Ontario Hydro for $105-million for breach of a 15-year contract to supply the utility with massive quantities of heavy oil. Petrosar, in which the federal government is a minority shareholder through Canada Development Corporation, alleges that Hydro twice - once in 1981 and again in 1982 - broke a 1976 agreement to buy 7.3 million barrels a year of residual oil for two new power stations. One of the two plants was cancelled during construction and the other was mothballed last summer.

Gallery seeks higher profile

A major effort to raise the profile and the income of the Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton was kicked off at a special meeting Thursday evening at the Gallery. About 25 individuals including a number of municipal politicians, were on hand to hear several Gallery members outline the aims and objectives of the Gallery and the panel of experts discussed the contribution the facility makes to the tourism industry in the county.

President of the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts, Carole Finn, led off the discussion by retracing the history of the Guild and the Gallery, noting its association with the Haliburton Highlands School of Fine Arts and the northern campus of Sir Sandford Fleming College. (Barb Bolin, a member of the panel, explained later in the evening that the college had recently changed the name of the campus from Northern to Haliburton.)

Finn pointed out that the revival in interest in the arts started in Haliburton County in 1966, well before the movement had gained momentum in other parts of the province. She pointed out that the school was one of the off-shoots of this interest and later the gallery.

Renovations at the former railway station began in 1978 with the opening taking place the following year. She noted that improvements have been continuing at the gallery ever since and the attendance at the school of fine arts has grown to the point where last year some 600 students took part. She said the future of both seemed bright and suggested that the Haliburton Highlands arts community might one day earn the reputation similar to another area in western Canada and become known as the "Banff of the East".

Al Oakley, the treasurer of the Guild this year reviewed some of the financial implications of the gallery's operation. He said the gallery attracted 14,000 visitors, with half that number being local residents. He estimated their spending in the gallery at $43,000.

Oakley pointed out the gallery has an annual budget of over $100,000 with the greatest portion of that money, close to 30% coming from fund raising. Commissions on the sale of items at the gallery provide 25% of the organization's revenue with another 15% coming from membership fees. Other income sources include grants, donations, group projects and door receipts.

He pointed out that since the guild acts as an agent for area artists, through a number of shows and sales plus sales through the gallery, it was in fact helping to circulate money through the local economy.

He also pointed out however, that operation of the gallery is expensive, especially with the special needs of exhibits on display. He said that while the guild directors were attempting to reduce costs as much as possible, it was likely the cost of its operations would rise in the future. To meet these increased costs the gallery will be seeking to enlarge its membership and has introduced a corporate membership at $200.

The Guild is also attempting to obtain full gallery status for the Haliburton facility, which would enable it to obtain increased government funding. Oakley noted that the present support from the government is provided on a per-show basis where, with full status, the gallery could receive assistance for its administration costs as well.

Panelists

Following the explanation from the two guild directors, the meeting was turned over to the four member panel who attempted to put the gallery's position within the community's economy in perspective.

Bob Stinson, who introduced himself as the manager of the Chamber of Commerce "for this week at least," a reference to the fact that he would soon be stepping down from that post, told the meeting that the Guild and the gallery "make a substantial contribution to the economy of the area." Stinson noted that the Chamber recognized this contribution several years ago in naming Carole Finn Highlander of the Year for her efforts in establishing the gallery.

Stinson noted that studies have shown that travellers from European countries place culture as the top priority in the items they are interested in when travelling. He noted culture ranks third with travellers from the USA. He said the gallery provides an attraction for individuals on vacation in the area, can be an important part of a recreational program for convention delegates and helps attract more artisans to our area.

The Chamber manager

said that to properly promote the assets of the area more information in the form of brochures and pamphlets are needed both inside and outside the Highlands.

Barb Bolin, administrator of the Haliburton Campus of Sir Sandford Fleming

College said that today's travellers are more sophisticated. She said they were looking for something interesting and stimulating to occupy their touring time. "They want more than video games," she suggested.

Bolin said these individuals can find this through the arts in participating in its manufacture or in simply appreciating and purchasing a hand crafted item.

She noted that an indication of the importance of this area is the world of the arts is reflected in the fact the Canadian Crafts Conference would be meeting in the Highlands in 1984.

Mike Walker, this region's provincial government tourism representative, told the meeting that to take full advantage of the gallery's and area's tourism potential, "...you must know your market, know who you're trying to attract and what your own potential is." He said this sort of information would only be of value if the area had a "product" to show people when they were enticed to visit the area.

Walker suggested that by combining efforts, within the county and with the provincial government, the dollars spent on tourism promotion could be made to go a lot further.

The final speaker on the panel was Diana Koechlin of Wintario. She praised the Guild members and county residents saying "You have something unique here. It has appeal and is an attraction. The gallery's reputation is widespread in the province." She told the group they had to be dedicated in their promotion of the gallery and the arts. She said by planning, from the chamber

In the past few weeks we have read with great interest a number of documents about the state of the Tourist Industry now and in the future both in this province and Canada-wide. The outlook provincially and federally is so vastly different that it's hard to believe that Ontario is in fact, part of Canada. The country as a whole is in a crisis situation! A crisis that "far from dissipating as general economic conditions improve, may worsen," according to a brief presented to the Federal Government by Tourism Industries Association of Canada (TIAC).

Tourism Ontario on the other hand in their pre-budget presentation to the Honourable Frank Miller say that "Ontario Tourism enterprises have, however, demonstrated considerable strength and resiliency in the face of these tremendous economic deficiencies and difficulties" and that "the tourism industry outperformed most other sectors of the provincial economy during 1982.

There certainly is a difference. This is reflected in a survey compiled by "Ontario Business", an Ontario Chamber of Commerce publication, that showed that 80% of the respondents felt that the federal government is not doing enough to address the economic recession and 60% called for an immediate federal election compared to only 10% wanted a provincial election.

Not addressed in budget

TIAC, in their brief pointed out that the tourism industry, being the second largest employer in Canada deserves to be recognized by the federal government as an important entity. The government responded by ignoring the industry completely in their latest budget. Tax policies regarding capital formation for the resort industry have a negative impact, the gasoline pricing policy has been devastating and the amount of federal money spent on promoting tourism has "been effectively eroded by some 40% over the past decade."

While the province wins accolades with their high profile "Yours to Discover" campaign, the federal government continues to give their Canadian government office of tourism a second rate presence under the Ministry of Industry Trade and Commerce. It's time, way past time, that this country had its own Ministry of Tourism.

Need tourism ministry

By the turn of the century tourism is expected to be the world's biggest industry. Our federal member for Victoria-Haliburton, Bill Scott advises us that they are urging the government to treat tourism seriously and create a separate ministry for it. Those in the industry and those in the Canadian Government office of Tourism agree. Mr. Fletcher states "The fact that Canada's share of world tourism receipts has declined significantly in recent years may well be an indication of our lack of success in adapting to market changes and in developing new products to meet changing needs." We agree.

Why not drop a line to M.P. Bill Scott supporting him on this issue? In the meantime thank your lucky stars for the fact we are in Ontario where "Yours to Discover" is saving the day.

New Magazine

Waldon Magazine, a new publication being printed in Fenelon Falls advises us that they are now preparing to print an annual "Business and Entertainment Guide" for Kawartha-Haliburton. Ten thousand copies will be printed and sold on newstands in the Toronto, Oshawa, Peterborough and Kawartha-Haliburton regions. It's a 96 page 6 1/2 by 9 1/2 book and will contain information on where to stay, eat, enjoy yourself and where to find service clubs and local churches etc. The minimum size ad is 1/8 of a page at $35.00 which also provides you with an editorial write-up. Tickets are $1.00 or 6 for $5.00 and the grand prize is a night at the Royal York and tickets (for 2) to Saturday and Sunday ball games, complete with dinner, Sunday brunch and limousine service.

Victoria Day

There is more activity being planned for this holiday weekend than we have seen for some time. It's Kintoria Day in Wilberforce and Mayfest in Minden with Kinsmen dance and bake sale run by the figure skating club. In Haliburton on Sunday there will be band concerts, canoe races, paddle boat races, snowmobile watercross demonstrations, a fishing derby, horseshow tournament and of course a huge fireworks display in the evening.

Students win honours at Bancroft music festival

Members of the grade eight music class at the Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden attended the North Hastings Music Festival in Bancroft last Wednesday. The school was well represented by the young musicians who claimed a number of individual and duet awards. As well, the entire school band placed first in band and ensemble.

In all, the students returned to Minden with nine first place awards, nine seconds and five thirds.

The following is a list of the winning students:

Flute Solo: 1. Stephanie O'Brien, 2. Lanie Rendall.

Clarinet Solo: 1. Julia Holliday-Rhodes, 2. Laura Barnes, 3. Helga Meyers.

Carole Finn identified a communications problem within the county saying the Guild members must start talking to other county residents about the gallery and the guild.

Nursing is changing

The nursing profession has changed dramatically over the past couple of decades and nowhere is that change more evident than in the high profile approach the Ontario Nurses Association (ONA) has taken in the promotion of Nurse's Week in the province. The theme "Nurses Care" is being promoted through lapel buttons, balloons and posters.

As well special programs are taking place throughout the province, including Haliburton County, in which nurses are providing special service for the community. In Minden and Haliburton, for example, members of the local ONA are sponsoring a number of blood pressure clinics and dispensing information about the dangers of high blood pressure. Special seminars are also planned during the week for members of the profession.

Charter president of the Haliburton County ONA local, Juli Gray pointed out that the higher profile being struck by the nursing profession represents evidence of their position within the community.

"Nursing has become more of a career than it ever was," she commented in an interview Monday. "At one time nursing was something a young female student did for a couple of years after graduation, filling the space between high school and marriage. Now, however, those entering the profession are doing so with long-term career objectives."

Things are changing within the medical profession as well. Nurses were once considered to be docile care givers. "While this is still an important part of our profession, our responsibilities have expanded to the point where we have become an active member of the health care team."

Nurses today are expected to take a more active role in patient care and their training reflects that change. Greater emphasis is now being placed on assessment skills, training in all aspects of health care is more intense and regular up-grading of skills is being provided.

With this greater responsibility has come a desire to improve the nurses rate of pay. "Before the 1960's a nurse would never think of asking the pay rate when seeking a job. The training had taught them to place sacrifice and service above oneself," Gray noted. In addition, the profession was and still is a female dominated field. The women's rights movement had just not reached into the profession.

However, those conditions began to change in the 1960's. Nurses began to realize they lagged behind other professions in the economic rewards they were receiving for their services. With this realization came job action which included lobbying and in some cases strikes.

That movement continues today and is no doubt one of the reasons nurses are striking a higher profile this week.

Nurses have taken a new outlook on health care today. "Nursing is more concerned with maintaining health, in preventing disease," Gray commented. "An excellent example of that is the preventative role played by the Public Health Nurses. Through their well baby clinic, Denver Screening and other programs, problems which normally did not get noticed until children entered school, can now be caught and treated earlier."

The increased responsibility nurses are now carrying is reflected in the more intensive training they must have before graduating. The training period is now two years, with an option for a four year university degree course. However, it is expected in the next few years, all nurses will be required to receive four years of training before graduation.

While many of the changes have taken place within the profession and may be obvious only to those who are part of the health care team, the new role of nursing is making an impact on our health system. For most people however, the efficient, smiling nurse in the crisp white uniform will always be a symbol of the ultimate in caring. It is a role that today's nurses still proudly continue.

No student grants given

"Well, that's a kick in the head," said Anson, Hindon and Minden Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas after the municipality has been turned down for Canada Summer Works projects.

"There's 18 kids we can't give summer jobs to," he said. The federal program is designed to give summer employment to students. The walking trails, river projects and others were not deemed priority schemes by the administering committee.

Councillor Pat Burk asked if there were other options open to the community but other council members seemed pessimistic about other possibilities.

Gary Kenney suggested petitioning Bill Scott or other government personnel. Pergolas said the municipality would have to advise that 18 students are involved and ask if there is another program to apply under. He said the clerk should inform those concerned "we really haven't any grants for students" in the township.

On Tuesday Pergolas explained the municipality's projects do not fit with the committee's priorities. "The result is we have bundles (clerk-treasurer Elinor Burke said there were 45 applications for summer work) of applications from students."

"I thought we could get one possibly two," said the Deputy Reeve. He said that while the B.I.A. received funds last year for the downtown area, "the municipality has not received anything for a couple of years."

"We contacted the fellow in charge. We sent him a very strong letter and sent copies to Bill Scott and John Eakins," Anson, Hinson and Minden has questioned where the money allocated to the riding of Victoria-Haliburton has gone and how Haliburton County has fared.

"We're devastated," concluded Pergolas.

Interest rates are coming down

- by Bill Scott, M.P. -

Thankfully, interest rates are now a far cry lower than they were even last summer. Mortgages taken out now are at rates which are bearable. This is, of course, beneficial to the housing industry and building is starting up again across the country. There is no doubt this is a large element in the indications pointing to economic recovery.

This turn around in rates has made some planned government interest subsidy programs quite useless. The Small Business Investment Grant Act, Bill C-136, which I had the occasion to discuss in the House of Commons in April was designed to provide interest rebates to reduce the rates to 12%. This is of little use now.

An unfortunate aspect to the drop in rates is the fact that many people were forced to renew mortgages when the rates were high and now are making payments which are far out of line with today's rates. Their only alternative is to buy out their mortgage. This generally involves paying their lending institution some penalty for doing so. This is understandable, the lenders have had to finance these mortgages themselves at high rates of interest. I have had brought to my attention, several cases where the penalty requested is between nine and ten thousand dollars.

On April 25th, I asked the Minister of Finance, in the House of Commons, if he would consider providing the lenders with some incentive to allow these people with exorbitant rates to buy out their mortgages with a minimum penalty. His answer was no. Furthermore, he said that most of those in this category had only one year mortgages and would soon be able to get out of them. I was not content with his answer and I informed the Speaker that I was not.

On April 26th, I was given the opportunity of discussing this issue further during the adjournment debate in the House. I pointed out that those people who I hear from were not able to renew for only one year. These were for five years. Due to this government's high interest rate policy at the time they now cannot afford the payments nor the penalty that the lenders require to renegotiate the mortgage.

The response of the Parliamentary secretary to the Minister of finance was that he was sure there were few people in this situation, and I should direct individual cases to the minister for his attention.

Ontario Tax Grants For Senior Citizens 1983 Instalments are in the Mail

Ontario Tax Grants for Seniors is a program designed specifically to help offset municipal and school taxes for Ontario residents 65 and over. The Ontario Ministry of Revenue is mailing cheques which comprise the first instalment of the 1983 Property Tax Grant of up to $250 and a temporary Home Heating Grant of $40. These cheques were mailed on April 29th.

Who will receive it?

- If you are 65 or over and own or rent your home, you are eligible for the Property Tax Grant.
- The 1983 instalment cheque is mailed to Ontario seniors who received the 1982 Property Tax Grant.
- This is intended to help you pay your property tax or rent for the first part of 1983. In the fall you will automatically receive an application for the balance of your grant.

Who will not receive it?

Basically, if you didn't receive a 1982 Property Tax Grant, you will not receive the spring instalment. In particular, seniors should note that:

- If you reside in a nursing home, home for the aged or any property tax-exempt institution, you are not eligible for the Property Tax Grant.
- If you turned 65 after December 31st, 1982 (and therefore did not qualify for a grant last year) you also will not receive the spring instalment. However, you will receive an application for the entire 1983 grant in the fall.

Townships investigate hostel

Municipalities within the county are co-operating to arrange funding for a senior citizen's hostel in Snowdon township. Anson, Hindon and Minden council discussed the hostel and various funding possibilities at their regular meeting April 28.

Reeve Lyle McKnight said he had a meeting with Reeves Harry Davis of Stanhope, Murray Fearrey of Dysart and Bob Vick of Snowdon on April 18 after touring the hostel, called Homewood Acres, with owner Willis McNeilly and his lawyer Ray Selbie.

McKnight said the owner was going to contact each councillor to invite them to look over the building.

McKnight said the shelter has not had any government subsidy as yet and is not making any money. "There isn't any way it can be done (make money)," he said. Presently the hostel is operating on $10 per diem rate. He said they hope to receive about $20 per diem.

Dick Schell, the municipality's by-law enforcement officer, investigated funding with the Ministry of Community and Social Services. Schell said Andree Uhlig, Income Maintenance Specialist with the ministry said before any funds would be available, the building would have to go through the process of getting approval.

Schell said residents of the hostel have to be eligible for welfare and that there should not be any vacancies at Hyland Crest. Age limits will also have to be taken into consideration.

Approval for the building has to be given before the ministry will provide 80 percent funding. Otherwise the municipality would pay 100 percent of the costs if involved in a contract.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Councillor Gary

Kenney said he was concerned with the idea of the municipality entering into an agreement with the hostel. "The liability seems to be a lot more than we should assume," he said, especially if the agreement included the standard 90 day backout clause.

It was suggested council investigate a hostel near Belleville to discover how it is progressing.

Kenney continued, saying the program seemed a "sort of foster care program for seniors". He added that a successful hostel could see others developed within the county making for a "mess tion should be given to the age levels in the county. While 11 percent of Ontario residents are senior citizens, the county has 18 percent. "There is going to have to be something done about this."

Councillors Pat Burk and Kenney decided to go to the hostel to discuss the matter with McNeilly.

of duplication" with clerks and councils monitoring them.

The reeve said the matter had been introduced at a committee meeting at county level but there was a consensus of agreement not to get the county involved.

He also said considera-

Paving may have to wait

Anson, Hindon and Minden council discussed the road problems the municipality faces this year at the April 28 meeting. Temporary surfacing for Bobcaygeon, Prince and Newcastle Streets were the major concern.

Reeve Lyle McKnight said that because the municipality does not have the funds to complete the road construction, and may not for a few years, an inexpensive covering should be placed on the roads to control dust.

"Rather than pave, as we are still working on them, we could single surface treat them," said the reeve. He said the covering could last as long as five years when work can be completed and the roads properly paved.

The reeve contacted county engineer Bill Obee for information on whether single surface treatment would be adequate or if the municipality would have to go with the double treatment.

Obee suggested the double treatment to McKnight during the phone conversation and said the 1.2 kilometres of road would cost about $30,000 to surface, extended to the outside shoulders.

McKnight said the surfacing can sometimes last longer than paving. The reeve concluded the municipality could ask the county to include the township needs on a tender presently out.

Councillor Gary Kenney said the township had budgeted for the road work. Pat Burk said the municipality must fix the roads.

Council members also discussed finishing work done on Bethel Road. They decided to double treat the surface and directed that the distance be measured.

Festival of Fun pleases crowd

Local talent had a chance to display their acting, singing and dancing skills (and use them to their best advantage) to an appreciative audience at the Festival of Fun, held last Thursday, April 28. The Haliburton Highlands Secondary School gymnasium was almost filled to capacity. Lenny Salvatori was master of ceremonies for the evening.

The annual event is held to raise funds for the local chapter of the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities (ACLD). This year the evening, organised by Gerry Feltham, coaxed over $200 out of the audience's pockets through donations made after the intermission by the same cubs who circulated the donation baskets throughout the crowd.

There were children singing and children dancing. High school students sang favourite popular songs or provided a folksy atmosphere for a short time. The county's senior citizens sang and played instruments.

One of the highlights of the evening came when Nancy Robichaud, an English teacher at the high school, gave a tongue-in-cheek, vampy performance about a middle aged woman set to enjoy life after her husband leaves her.

Other highlights were from the Lochlin Sour Notes, sharing their peculiar brand of music and offbeat humour.

The last performance capped the evening in grand style. The Highland Dixie Jazz Band played a number of old favourites prompting the audience to clap their hands. The band played three numbers and to the delight of the audience

Council briefs

Items from the April 28 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council.

Haliburton County has requested the closing of a Minden street to permit a celebration commemorating the county's elevation to full county status. The May 8 celebration will also introduce the trade dollar the Chamber of Commerce is distributing for the county.

The ceremony will be attended by Claude Bennett,

Minister of Housing and Municipal Affairs.

The county asked the Hyland Crest bus be excepted from the road block.

The area being closed is Newcastle Street, between Milne and St. Germaine Streets between 2:30 and 4:30. The temporary closure was approved.

Subsidy received

Anson, Hindon and Minden has received the first installment of a road improvement subsidy from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications.

Minister James Snow sent a letter informing council of the payment of $58,000. The amount is 30 per cent of the total granted by MTC.

Water quality

The Ministry of the Environment sent the municipality a report on water quality in lakes in the area. The report was compiled by individuals on the lakes who were given kits to do some of the basic research.

Councillor Gary Kenney asked about the feasibility of copying the report to give to various cottage owners associations. Reeve Lyle McKnight said the groups would probably have copies.

Clerk-treasurer Elinor Burke read the Mountain Lake results as an example. The study reports excellent water quality and very good seasonal averages.

Advertisement

The Times of Minden has offered advertising space in its directory of the area to the municipality. Elinor Burke said the township's standard ad would require half a page at $175.

Councillor Gary Kenney suggested The Times be requested to consider the municipality's Canada Day celebrations as likely material for the descriptive part of the publication.

Littering

Municipal by-law enforcement officer, Dick Schell, reported his progress in obtaining signs forbidding littering for the township.

He said Mechanical Advertising, a firm which manufactures signs said they would cost under $30 for the post, the sign and hardware. The company told Schell municipalities ordering littering signs is rare.

Councillor Pat Burk questioned if the signs could be put on county roads and mentioned Number 18 as a potential spot.

Schell told Burk the municipality would first have to have county permission.

Tree-cutting by-law

Anson, Hindon and Minden is reviewing the Dysart tree cutting by-law to determine its possible application to the municipality.

Councillor Gary Kenney spoke in favour of the measure saying the bylaw "doesn't infringe on private uses" but controls harvesting. He said "proper silviculture practices are taken into account" by the by-law.

Reeve Lyle McKnight pointed out most tree cutting in the area is done on Crown land and the municipality has no control over these areas.

Kenney suggested contacting Peter Hynard at the Ministry of Natural Resources for advice.

Accounts

Council reviewed some of the accounts receivable and wrote off all but four. Council decided to inform offenders of the resolution to take them to small claims court in the event of clear cases.

One of the cases involved a Charles Barton who deeded a parcel of land to the municipality in 1915. It was discovered that he deeded the parcel of land again in 1956 to John Bingham.

Council told the clerk to direct the township solicitor to search the deed.

Township trophy

Council has decided to authorize Tom Prentice to select a trophy to be presented to the ice racer sportsman of the year. They committed up to $100.

The trophy is an acknowledgement by council of the business brought to the area by the ice racers. Reeve Lyle McKnight said 60 percent of the races were staged at the circuit here.

New insurance offer considered

Frank Cowan, an underwriter of municipal insurance presented a summary of the insurance policy Anson, Hindon and Minden would receive if the municipality decided to place its insurance through his firm. At the moment Anson, Hindon and Minden is with Ontario Municipal-Educational (OME.)

Clerk-treasurer Elinor Burke said that last year the quotes between the companies Cowan represents, General Accident and Guarantee Company of North America and OME was thousands of dollars. This year Cowan's company is asking $11,082 and OME $10,355.

Cowan, with local agent Don Hall of Hall's Insurance said his company had been insuring municipalities for about 50 years. "We developed the forms which have generally been the rule in municipal insurance," he said.

Cowan detailed the policy and suggested he would trim some of the high numbers of the rival company's policy. He said in many of the categories, claims have never reached as much as the municipality is presently insured for. He conceded the Palmerston robbery, where a large amount of money was embezzled from the municipality, went beyond the limit he would suggest, but pointed out the theft took place over several years. He added that if a claim is made for the time the policy was in force and the policy had since ended, the company would respond to the claim.

Cowan also offered councillors conflict of interest insurance. He said the policy differed from others in that if a councillor is "slightly guilty" usually a case of bad judgement and not for personal gain, the company would pay legal fees.

The insurer said that if the municipality decided on his company as its next insurance company, he would go through "and bring values up to date." He doubted the company Anson, Hindon and Minden is with now had seen the property. Cowan added that "if hazards are detected, the municipality will be informed."

Deputy Reeve, Ed Pergolas, asked what next year's insurance premium would be, a reference to the change in rates.

"I don't know," Cowan replied. He explained that with the present economy, companies have drastically reduced premiums to remain competitive. "I can tell you our rates will remain competitive."

Gary Kenney suggested a visit from the other company would help with the decision to which other members of council agreed.

Elinor Burke said the municipality is on its one month grace period with the present insurer.

Oakville resident injured

An Oakville resident was taken to Minden hospital following a mishap Saturday April 30.

Paul Edward Morden, 18, was driving on Twelve Mile Lake Road West in Minden township when he lost control of his 1983 Yamaha All Terrain Cycle (ATC). Morden failed to negotiate a curve and the ATC travelled down an embankment and flipped over. The vehicle received minor damage.

Looking back

In last week's installment, the first part of the 1859 report of Crown Land Agent Richard Hughes appeared. Commenting on the progress of development along the Bobcaygeon road, he painted a stark but promising picture for the settlers who had been lured into the Ontario wilderness by the promise of inexpensive land grants. The location of Minden Village had already been recognized as a potential commercial area and Hughes reinforces that idea by suggesting property be set aside for the community to develop.

His report continues.

Many arrearages have been paid on lands in Sommerville in consequence of the increased value caused by the opening of the Bobcaygeon Road, and I have no doubt that when the lands in the lately surveyed Townships of Snowdon, Lutterworth and Anson are placed in the market, as also the Townships of Stanhope and the balance of Galway, now under survey, the sales will be more than double what they are now, this will be provided by the fact that more than 100 persons have offered payment already, and many of them wish to pay in full for lots in these Townships, which could not be accepted, as the lands have not yet been placed in market, and so determined are these persons to secure the lots, that most of them have moved out and are in actual possession and working on the lands.

Twenty-five families are settled on and near the boundary line between Stanhope and Minden, where, and to the Eastward, land of excellent quality is reported by those who have gone so far.

I would respectfully recommend that a road be located as soon as possible, running Eastward and Westward from the Bobcaygeon road, commencing at the boundary between Minden and Stanhope, and to run to the Hastings Road, to Mr. Peterson's line, and Westward to the Muskoka Road, and that the lots on this road be Free Grants.

I would also suggest the propriety of surveying Lot No. 3 Free Grant, in Minden, reserved, and laying it off into a village flat. I have had several applications from mechanics and traders for lots, they stating that if allowed to purchase a village lot each, they would move out at once.

One person (probably Thomas Young who opened the first store at Minden) has squatted already, and has built a store, and is now doing a good business. I have every reason to believe that a town would spring up rapidly if it was opened for sale.

A saw-mill has been erected at Kinmount during the last six months, and is found of great benefit to the settlers, as it saves 18 miles of carriage for lumber.

Mills are very much wanted at Gull River and in the townships adjacent, and parties are prepared as soon as the privileges are ready for sale to erect mills at once to meet the demand.

We have to thank the Hon. the Postmaster General for opening three Post Offices during the year, viz.: one at Silver Lake, in Galway, nine miles, one at Kinmount in Sommerville, eighteen miles, and the other at Gull River, (the name was later changed to Minden), in Minden, thirty miles from Bobcaygeon; these have been of great benefit to the settlers.

U.C.W. annual meeting held

"Growing in Faith Together" was the theme of the 21st annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference United Church women held in Trinity United Church, Cobourg on April 5 - 6, 1983. Mrs. Margaret Gilson of Little Britain presided.

The theme leader was Mrs. Edith Ming, Vice-President of the World Federation of Methodist Churches. Mrs. Ming resides in New York City but spends a great deal of time working with her sisters in the Carribean. Her thoughts shared and her gift of music freely given, was indeed a growing experience for the 185 in attendance.

Reports from various committees of Conference show that 32 candidates for Ministry received assistance from the Bursary Fund.

Women are studying about mission, and are reaching out. In order to keep pace we must increase our Mission and Service allocation this year by 12 - 1/2%.

Events for Women will be held September 9th - 11th at Camp Quin-Mo-Lac with Mrs. Marion Logan leading with the theme "Special Gifts of Women of the Church", and Fenelon Falls will host the mid-week event November 8th - 9th with Dr. Robert McClure as leader.

Rev. John May, President of Conference, gathered the assembly in Faith at the table for an opening Communion service, and conducted the Election and Installation of Officers at the conclusion of the session.

The highlight of this year's meeting was a Prayer Breakfast on Wednesday morning when Joanne Fairhart-Houlden, senior writer for the Observer, was guest speaker. She brought attention to the fact that governments are spending a million dollars a minute in the arms race. If that amount of money could be spent for just two weeks on world development all humans could have adequate food, clothing, health care and pure water. Joanne also stated that she finds many good things happening at the grass roots level of our church - everything from letter writing to marching under a peace banner.

Many U.C.W. groups are busy stitching pictorial windows and cushion covers for the World Council of Churches meeting in Vancouver this summer.

Lynda Jewell of Trenton and her gift of music was a gem to our annual meeting. Edith Ming in her solo, "I'm Only An Ordinary Person", commissioned all to go to work in our U.C.W.'s to express our loyalty and devotion to Jesus Christ, through witness, study, fellowship and service.

For all the years of love.

Talking to the world

The common room of Hyland Crest Senior Citizen's Home was buzzing and crackling static Monday afternoon. The equipment responsible for distant voices in the lounge was Reg Argyle's ham radio set.

Argyle, an experienced radio operator, lives in Lutterworth Estates. He had all his QSL cards up on the wall behind him and on an easel in front of the card table on which the equipment was set. The QSL cards, identification in ham radio language, were from around the world. Argyle's call signal is VE3 DTU.

The major project for the afternoon was to patch the way through to England for Hyland Crest resident Mary Oliver. "I'd like to speak to England because I was born there," she explained.

Before he managed to get through to Britain, Argyle contacted someone in Florida and then hit upon a co-incidence in his next call. In a conversation with an operator from Selkirk, Manitoba, the Lutterworth resident learned he had contacted a man living in the senior citizen's home there. The man in Manitoba explained he had his radio at the local civic centre.

Argyle made other calls to other operators throughout the afternoon. Not reaching his destination first time was part of the fun.

Chamber will meet in Bicroft

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce in a renewed effort to communicate more effectively with communities throughout the entire County of Haliburton are taking to the road. Their monthly board meetings, which are usually held in a central location are to be held in various communities from time to time and the public in those communities are invited to attend.

The first such meeting will take place in the Bicroft Community Centre at the townsite of Cardiff on Tuesday, May 10. The board will hold their regular meeting in the afternoon, adjourn for supper, and then re-convene at 7:00 p.m. for an open forum session. It is hoped that at that time members of the surrounding area will attend, get to know the members of the board, and advise the board of any concerns or new ideas they may have to contribute.

The Chamber's director from the Cardiff area is Joe Paul who owns and operates Cardiff Food Fair. He has been active on the present board and indicated he was quite pleased that he could host the first meeting of this type in the eastern part of the county. Mr. Paul will be providing his fellow directors with dinner at the Food Fair snack bar.

Rhonda Elstone, President of the Chamber commented that, "The county of Haliburton is a large and difficult geographic region to serve with one Chamber, but we are convinced that one Chamber is the best way to do it and are prepared to go to considerable lengths to make it work."

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce is one of only two county-wide Chambers in all of Ontario.

Legion to host 1984 convention

The annual convention of District F, Royal Canadian Legion was held at Branch 30 Port Hope, April 23-24, 1983. The opening ceremonies were conducted by A DC Paul Hycha and the comrades were welcomed to Br. 30 by President Mel Talbot and to the town of Port Hope by Mayor Wm. Wyatt.

The meeting was then turned over to Chairman W. Smith who proceeded with the convention business. Reports were given by the five Zone Commanders and all 54 branches are running well and are active in their respective communities.

In the District Commanders report, A DC Paul Hycha paid tribute to our late District Commander Jack Rashotte, stating that Comrade Jack had made every effort to include him in the running of the district and this had proved very helpful when it became necessary for him to assume the district commander's duties.

Comrade Paul also made special mention of the 1982 District Drumhead Service held in Haliburton, saying that he had received some very favourable comments from Ontario Command.

The reports of the District chairmen were read and the Poppy Chairman was pleased to report that our 1981 campaign was a great success in all branches.

The Membership Chairman's report showed that we are down in Ordinary members and urged all branches to increase their drive for new members among those veterans who are not members of Legion.

The Public Relations Chairman had a lengthy report and brought to the convention a number of winning bulletins and scrap books so that we could get ideas for future submissions.

Branch 239 Bobcaygeon won first prize in the category Class "C" 250-400.

Branch 30 hosted a delightful dance on Saturday evening with the delegates renewing acquaintances with friends and comrades from around the district.

On Sunday, April 24 the meeting was reconvened at 0930 hours with the remainder of the reports being given and a number of awards being made. At 1130 the meeting was adjourned and the Legionnaires formed up for the parade to the cenotaph.

A wreath was laid by Provincial first Vice President J. Tyndall of St. Catharines. Following the parade a delicious dinner was served by the Ladies Auxiliary of Branch 30. The guest speaker was Comrade Tyndall and he commended District F and Comrade Hycha on the excellence of the meeting and the size of the turnout. District Commanders from "A" and "C" were head table guests and they each spoke briefly, and then went on to ask for our support at the Ontario Provincial Convention next month in their bid for the position of 3rd Vice President.

The session resumed after dinner and nominations were opened for the positions of District Commander and Deputy District Commander. At this time the children from branches in the district who had won prizes in the Remembrance Day Literary and Poster Contests were brought onto the convention floor to receive their prizes from the Provincial 1st Vice President. These were Senior Poem last - Jeff McMullen, Branch 52 and 452, Junior Essay 1st - Hilary Chen, Branch 43, Intermediate Poster, Poster 2nd - Alane Walker, Br. 178, Junior Poster 2nd, Minh Lam, Branch 78.

At this time the election of officers was held and Comrade Paul Hycha was elected District Commander by acclamation. The nominees for the position of Deputy District Commander were Comrades, Ray Reading F2, Carman Livingstone F2, Doug Worrall F4, Una Golding F5. On the fourth ballot Comrade Doug Worrall-F4 was declared the winner. Congratulations to our outgoing Zone Commander.

The chairman then asked for motions for the 1984 District Convention. This was awarded to Branch 129, Haliburton. This is the first time that the convention has gone to one of the "smaller" branches. No doubt we are still heady over the huge success of the 1982 Drumhead Service and hopefully this will carry over to the convention. We have a year to prepare for the event and we have been promised any and all help that Branch 30 Port Hope can give to us. Up the Highlands.

The District Drumhead for 1984 was awarded to Beaverton Branch. One might say that F4 made a clean sweep of the convention. The impressive ceremony of Installation of Newly Elected officers was the next item of business and was conducted with finesse by Comrade Tyndall. The Deputy Zone Commanders were installed followed by the Zone Commanders, one of whom was Comrade Mel Robertson, Branch 129, Haliburton. The newly elected Deputy District Commander followed and then the colours were retired for the beginning of the ceremony for the installation of the District Commander. An honour guard of two past District Commanders was requested and Comrades Merrill Dunn, and Eric Hogg fulfilled this duty. Comrade Paul Hycha was then installed with all due respect and dignity. This concluded the business of the convention and the closing ceremonies were performed by Comrade Paul.

Did you know?

Recently there has been much talk about the subject of "battered women" in the media.

In many parts of the country, hostels for abused women and their children are coming into existence.

As far as we know, Haliburton County does not have such facilities at the present time.

The nearest alternate shelter for women in crisis is Y.W. Crossroads in Peterborough, tel. 743-3526.

Priority is given to women, who are temporarily without a home and teenage mothers.

In addition, the Y.W. "Crossroads" service will provide emergency overnight accommodation for single women on a twenty-four hour basis for up to seven days.

If you need information or have a problem, do not hesitate to call your Haliburton County Information Centre. We will do our best to help you! The office is located in the Drag River Municipal Building, Haliburton. Tel.: 457-2733. Office hours are from 9-4. Drop-ins are always welcome.

It was nice to see so many sons, daughters or maybe some dear friends come in to see the residents over the weekends, it brings so much pleasure, and brightens the days up too. I know if some of our family doesn't come it leaves us feeling blue. We missed the first part of the Church Service Sunday night, we had company.

Mary Oliver has a grandson getting married in October. Marie Baker a daughter in May, congratulations. We hope the Minister ties the knot so tight, married they'll have to stay.

Movies Monday night, "Bears and Men" and "Pictures of the 1930's" which we hope won't occur again. We have Mrs. Ellen Knight who they say is ninety eight, she can still use a spinning wheel, now don't you think that's great.

Tuesday morning Lieutenant Buell of the Salvation Army, Haliburton held a real interesting service in the chapel this lovely spring day, our faithful came again to sing and play, thank you all we would like to say.

Tuesday afternoon Doris said it is such a lovely day, would you like to go for a Bus ride? Now what do you say, it will do you good, give you some fresh air and put some colour in your cheeks, and blow the cob webs out of your hair. So we boarded the Hyland Bus and the girls said we will take you where you choose, we wanted to go some place where we could get some booze but no matter where we went all they had it seems was different kinds of pop and ice cream. Then they took us to Gelert to see their real nice homes and sister Ruby's too. We thanked them for such a lovely time it was the least that we could do.

Fred Ballard came Tuesday night to entertain us for an hour. I was supposed to help him out but didn't have the power. I am sorry Fred, instead of playing the harmonica I was stretched out in my bed.

Thursday afternoon the ladies of Minden Anglican Church served a real nice lunch and had a lovely Birthday Cake for those that had birthdays in the month of April. The men didn't show up they were too shy, the ladies caught up and kissed them as they went by. Our President of the Residents Council got up and thanked the ladies for this social time. Then Jennifer Purc got up, now she has lots of pep, she danced the Highland Fling for us and didn't miss a step.

We would like to say a word here about the different ladies that come in each Thursday, to serve a cup of tea and have a social time together, nothing seems too much trouble not even the weather.

Now for our Spiritual needs. The first Tuesday morning of each month Rev. Elliott of Minden Anglican Church holds a Communion service in the chapel here. Then Rev. Burgess with his helpers has a service each Sunday night. Each Tuesday morning whether dull or bright some Minister takes the service to keep us living right. So you see we fare well spiritually as well as physically, a big thank you, and may God bless you all.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Shorter have been spending a few days in their town house visiting with their daughter. A member of the Kinsmen Club came up here Thursday night and conducted the Bingo game and did the job just right. We didn't hear who won the big jack pot and we didn't know who the caller was but we thank him a lot.

Our entertainers came this Friday afternoon to lead us in a Sing Song and some favourite tunes. A lovely poem was read and from The Sound of Music Grace sang These Are A Few Of My Favourite Things. Norma came to play, we thank you both for coming

Museum report

The members of Minden County Town Museum Committee have decided on a project to mark Minden's 125th anniversary.

A cook book will be published aptly titled 'A Pinch of the Past'. The book will contain recipes that were stand-bys in mother's and grandmother's time. There will be no metric measurements. Do we hear applause?

'A Pinch of the Past' will not be available until 1984, but the committee is anxious to obtain recipes as soon as possible. So, get out those old recipe files, and send your favourite along to Aileen Blears, Box 488, Minden.

Some background material would be interesting regarding the recipe such as: its origin, why such a favourite, who liked it the most and why. Perhaps some of you who remember the logging camps, and the food served there have a dish you would like included in the book?

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

The latest exhibit at the Agnes Jamieson Art Gallery will be the Children's Art from the Archie Stouffer School. The show will open on Wednesday, May 11 at 7:30 p.m. There will also be performances by the children in gymnastics and music provided by members of the School band. Refreshments will be served and this should be a very entertaining evening for all. It was a great success last year. Scholarships have been awarded to deserving students by the Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts and will be presented at a later date.

At this time, please keep in mind the memberships obtainable for the Gallery. Single memberships are $10.00 and families are $15.00. This is a very worthwhile cause and provides a great deal of pleasure, not only for the community but for the tourists who visit. I think everyone should take pride in our Gallery, and in the short time the Gallery has been in existence it has presented some very outstanding exhibits, with many more to come in the very near future. The Agnes Jamieson Gallery is also a tribute to the fine artist and dedicated doctor who worked so hard for the community and gave so much of her time and effort toward this great project.

Following the Children's Art Exhibit, we can all look forward to an outstanding showing of the artistic achievements of renowned photographer, Irwin Karnick. This is a super show (I can speak from having viewed it first-hand at the Peterborough Art Gallery). The exhibit is entitled 'Transportation - A Personal View'. Please don't miss it it is a very exciting show. The exhibit begins June 2 and runs to July 5. On opening night there will be a reception. I will report the details as the date approaches.

I am sorry to report that Mary maidens is presently a patient in Minden Hospital but is progressing nicely. Mrs. Jarvis is also confined to Minden Hospital and Mary Eaton of Lutterworth Estates is also a patient in the Civic Hospital in Peterborough. We wish these ladies a very speedy recovery. My father is home from the Civic Hospital in Peterborough and is doing well.

Winnifred Bedlington, God bless her, celebrated her one hundred and first birthday, last week. I understand that she enjoyed herself very much. She played the piano and also played cards. Best wishes from us all. Unfortunately Lyndsie her daughter, was unable to attend. She was indisposed, however I am happy to report she is much better.

The newly renovated Thrift Shop will open again this Friday from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m. I understand it really looks great.

Ann Rockory and Florence Schlosser leave next Monday for England and Scotland. They look forward to the four week trip and we wish them both bon voyage.

Vera Ward is on vacation visiting in Trenton and Toronto.

Happy Birthday to Mary Maidens who celebrates her birthday this week. Our best wishes to her for her birthday and speedy recovery.

First of weekly Thursday Museum Card Parties, May 12 at 1:30 at Library Cultural Centre. Cribbage and euchre. 75c admission. All welcome.

Sorry to hear Vera Bagshaw was in Haliburton Hospital for a few days, but is home now. Hoping she soon feels well again.

Mr. and Mrs. Ern Voicey of Cambridge, visited with the Philip Robinsons last week. Florence Robinson's Christmas Cactus is still in full bloom which has to be some kind of record.

I am sorry to report the deaths of Mrs. Gladys Dennis of Hyland Crest and Mrs. Mossam Minaker of Lochlin, last week. Our deepest sympathy to the members of their families.

Those who visited the Elmer Harrisons of Maple Lake over the weekend were his daughter and her husband, Sharon and Keith McIntosh of Oshawa, Bud and Gala Stamp of Minden, their uncle, Lorne Sawyer and Jayne Swartman.

Mrs. Maude Coulter of Minden, is visiting her daughter, Adele Rivers in Toronto.

St. Peter's Anglican Church of Maple Lake was the scene of an historic event on Sunday, May 1st when the congregation had the distinct honour and pleasure of the presence of Governor-General John Black Aird who unveiled the plaque in commemoration of B. Napier Simpson Jr., a prominent Ontario Architect. Following was a great speech given by Mr. B. Napier Simpson Sr. as a representative member of the Simpson family. There was an extremely fine turnout for this auspicious event.

On Sunday evening, I was informed by my son James, in Missouri that a tornado had touched down in O'Fallon where Jim has his practice, and did extensive damage to the area. Fortunately his office was undamaged.

Today I received a smashing photograph and an equally thrilling letter from actor Stewart Granger of Scaramouche fame.

He was starring in the film King Solomon's Mines at Radio City Music Hall, some years back when my former husband was a star in the stage show. Not only is he extremely handsome but he's also a very nice man.

It seems it matters not who makes a poem, and it matters not what kind of poem, a tribute to some god or hero, a lengthy historic account, a love song, a lamentation, or a joking bit of banter. That poem is not judged according to the poet's age, sex, social standing, education or experience. A poem merely is or is not. It lives or it never existed. It is made and remembered or it is forgotten so quickly that it might never have been made at all. AZTEC.

St. Paul's Anglican Church was the scene of a lovely wedding, at four p.m., last Saturday, when Anne Campbell, daughter of Pat and Don Campbell was united in marriage to Brad Neave, son of Joyce and Murray Neave, of Pickering. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Schnitzel House, and dancing at the Minden Recreational Centre. On return from their honeymoon, the happy couple will reside in Scarborough. Best wishes from us all, Anne and Brad.

June Mewhort will be presenting another of her extremely interesting and informative seminars on Parapsychology at Sir Sandford College, Haliburton branch, on May 14 and 15. I will be participating in the course and I recommend it highly, having taken the previous course.

Mrs. Mary Wright from Blantyre, Scotland, is visiting once again with her daughter Susan Beers of Minden. Mrs. Wright and Bill's mother, Kay Beers of Bracebridge have just returned from a wonderful 4 week trip to New Zealand and Australia. Mrs. Wright leaves for Scotland on May 12.
